

Advocacy and the Role of the Executive Branch before the Supreme Court

Edwind Kneedler has been in the Office of the Solicitor General for 27 years, and has presented oral argument in more than 90 cases in the Court. In his presentation at the seminar, Edwin Kneedler will describe the role of the Solicitor General, special aspects of government cases in the Court, and the nature of advocacy before the Court.