

Essay Topic Suggestions

Andrea Schalley

Sense relations and their ontological relevance: Investigating antonymy, complementarity, or troponymy

Conceptual relations underlying regular polysemy: Description and ontological relevance

Conceptual relations underlying relations between readings of polysemous lexical items: Description and ontological relevance

Polysemous items or instances of the same reading – where and how to draw boundaries

An ontological approach to resolving conflicting linguistic terminology: A case study

Developing part of an ontology for linguistics: Investigating a linguistic subdomain

Enriching GOLD

Categories of psychosocial cognition: A cross-terminological case study

Reflection of part-whole relations in the lexicon (except for meronymy)

Different types of part-whole relations and their impact on linguistic coding

Characterisation of part-whole relations: Devising a set of secondary characteristics

Are Boolean characteristics good enough for describing part-whole relations?

Change of part-whole relations over time

Transitivity of part-whole relations: Rules accounting for presence or absence of transitivity

Part-whole relations of eventities: Characterisation

Part-whole relations of eventities: Transitivity