The Westlaw homepage is displayed.

Westlaw Home Page Overview

Whenever you begin a research session, you start your research from the Westlaw home page. Perform All Research Tasks from the Global Search Box

Use the Search box at the top of every page to run different types of searches from a single location. For example, to retrieve documents by citation, type the citation, e.g., 127 sct 2162, in the Search box and click Search. To retrieve multiple documents by citations, type the citations, separated by semicolons, in the Search box and click Search.

To retrieve a case by party name, begin typing the party name in the Search box and select the case from the drop-down list.

Additionally, materials can be retrieved by performing searches using KeyCite, Boolean Terms and Connectors, descriptive terms, and docket numbers. Type general inquiries or descriptive terms to retrieve secondary sources and other additional documents as well as relevant legal documents. Westlaw Answers provides general answers to many legal questions, and can be used as a starting point for your research.

Researching a Legal Issue

When you run a search, you search all of the core legal content on Westlaw by default. Core content comprises cases; Key Numbers; trial court orders; statutes and court rules; regulations; administrative decisions and guidance; Practical Law; secondary sources; forms; briefs; trial court documents; expert materials; jury verdicts and settlements; proposed and enacted legislation; proposed and adopted regulations; and arbitration materials. You can search by simply typing descriptive terms that relate to your legal issue or by using Boolean Terms and Connectors.

Searching Using WestSearch, the Westlaw Search Engine

WestSearch, a search engine designed for law, helps you deliver the best results quickly. Simply type the legal issue you are researching into the Search box at the top of the page.

A WestSearch

A search engine designed for law, WestSearch incorporates 125 years of exclusive proprietary analysis of the law, and tools like Key Numbers, KeyCite, headnotes, notes of decisions, indexes, and secondary sources to deliver relevant documents even if they use phrasing that is different from your query.

B Sorting the Result List

By default, results are ranked by relevance and include on-point documents even if they do not reference the specific terms used in your search. You can also sort your result list by date, most cited, or most used.

Boolean Terms and Connectors

Westlaw allows you to search using Boolean Terms and Connectors. When you search using Boolean Terms and Connectors, you enter a query consisting of key terms from your issue and connectors specifying the relationship between those terms. For example, you can require that your terms appear in the same sentence or in the same paragraph.

Automatic Detection

Whenever you type a query that contains a field restriction, proximity connector, quotation marks, or expander (+, %, !), Westlaw automatically processes your search as a Boolean Terms and Connectors query.

Browsing by Content

There are several ways you can retrieve content in Westlaw. Running a search from the Westlaw homepage will return results in the core content areas. To search for a specific type of content, start from the Browse sections, click the tab from which you want to begin your search (All Content, Federal Materials, State Materials, or Practice Area), and click the most applicable link of various content types or jurisdictions to narrow the content.

When you click a link to specific content, Westlaw presents additional content categories that help discern the specific content you are looking for. Additionally, a corresponding search box is displayed at the top of the page. Use the search box to search within the specified category, or continue clicking additional category links until you have reached the desired content. The categories within each collection will depend on what content you are browsing under.

1 Browse to content under:

- All Content

West Key Number System

The West Key Number System® is the master classification system of U.S. law and widely regarded as the cornerstone of effective legal research. The West Key Number System is a proprietary component of the WestSearch legal search engine, which sets Westlaw apart. Our attorney-editors create headnotes, which are classified to topics and key numbers from the West Key Number System. If you have a relevant topic or key number, or you know what legal terms and concepts courts have used when discussing your issue, you can conduct a comprehensive search in the West Key Number System for published opinions discussing points of law touching on your issue.

Access the West Key Number System

- 1 In the Browse section, click Key Numbers.
- 2 Or, on the Tools tab, click West Key Number System.

West Key Number System Page

- 3 Use the Search box on the top to search for Key Numbers relevant to your issue, or
- 4 Browse for relevant topics and key numbers.
- 5 Click a key number to see its details. Then click a topic heading to view results relevant to your selected jurisdiction.

Global Search Results

West Key Numbers appear in global search results after running a plain language search.

TIP

Document headnotes located in cases also provide easy access to key number-specific results relevant to the document's jurisdiction.

Allows you to insert the correct citation and page number when you paste the copied text into another document.

The screenshot shows the Westlaw interface for the case Harper & Row Publishers, Inc. v. Nation Enterprises, 105 S.Ct. 2218. The document text includes a snippet about copyright infringement. A context menu is open over the text, showing options: 'Save to Recent Folder', 'Add a Note', 'Highlight', and 'Copy with Reference (Standard)'. A 'SELECTED TOPICS' sidebar is visible on the right, listing related legal topics such as 'Copyrights and Intellectual Property' and 'Application of Copyright Law to Jewelry'.

TIP

When you use the Copy with Reference feature, you can choose from over 30 state and national citation formats, including Standard and ALWD.

Checking Citations in KeyCite

KeyCite®, the industry's most complete, accurate, and up-to-date citation service, verifies whether a case, statute, court rule, regulation, or administrative decision is still good law. It's the only online citator to do so directly on the face of the document and on a result list.

A KeyCite Status Flags

Checking Cases in KeyCite

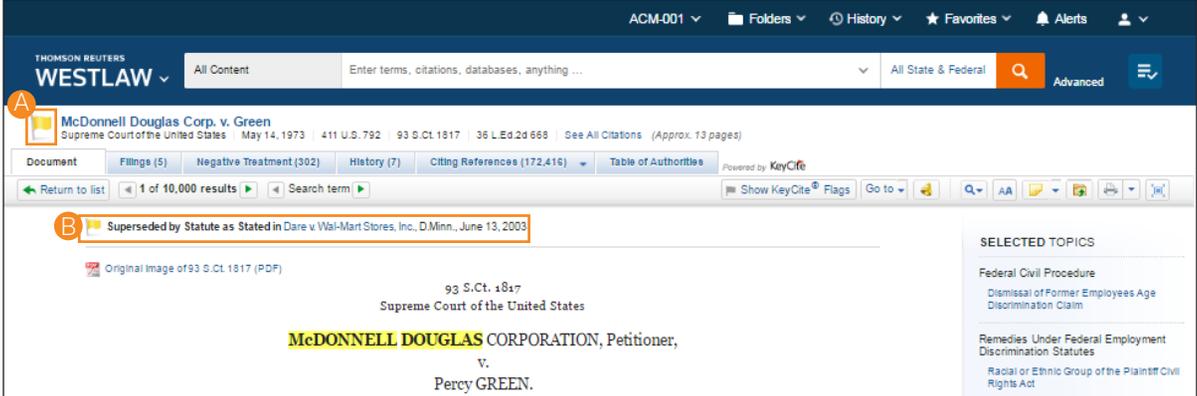

-  A red flag warns that the case is no longer good law for at least one of the points of law it contains.
-  A yellow flag warns that the case has some negative history, but has not been reversed or overruled.
-  A blue-striped flag warns that the case has been appealed to the U.S. Court of Appeals or the U.S. Supreme Court (excluding appeals originating from agencies).

Checking Statutes in KeyCite

-  A red flag indicates the statute has been amended by a recent session law, repealed, superseded, or held unconstitutional or preempted in whole or in part.
-  A yellow flag indicates that the statute has been renumbered or transferred by a recent session law; that an uncodified session law or proposed legislation affecting the statute is available; that the statute was limited on constitutional or preemption grounds or its validity was otherwise called into doubt; or that a prior version of the statute received negative treatment from a court.

B Negative Treatment

When applicable, a description and a link for the most negative treatment is available at the top of the document.

TIP Accessing KeyCite

Type one of the following with a citation in the Search box:

- keycite
- keycite:
- kc
- kc:

Example:

The example search box shows the text "keycite 93 sct 1817" entered into the search field. The interface includes a search button and a dropdown menu for "All Content" and "All State & Federal".

Viewing Citing References

KeyCite provides a list of cases, administrative materials, secondary sources, briefs, and other court documents that cite your document and ensures you are citing good law. Additionally, KeyCite provides more citing references for more types of documents than any other citation service.

A Access Citing References

To view documents that cite your document, click the Citing References tab.

B Sort

To change the order in which the citing references are displayed, click an option in the Sort By list on the toolbar.

C Filter

To narrow the list of citing references, you can

- type terms in the Search within results box in the left column.
- click a document type in the left column, e.g., Cases. You can further narrow this list by selecting a filter under Narrow in the left column, such as Jurisdiction or Headnote Topics.

D KeyCite Depth of Treatment Bars

KeyCite depth of treatment bars indicate the extent to which a citing case, administrative decision, or brief discusses the cited case.

The screenshot shows the Westlaw KeyCite interface for the case McDonnell Douglas Corp. v. Green. The Citing References tab is selected, showing 48,809 references. The interface includes a search bar, navigation tabs, and a list of citing references. The list has columns for Treatment, Title, Date, Type, Depth, and Headnote(s). The Depth column shows green bars indicating the extent of discussion. The Headnote(s) column shows numbers in boxes indicating which headnote(s) are relevant.

Treatment	Title	Date	Type	Depth	Headnote(s)

- ████████ Examined The citing case, administrative decision, or brief contains an extended discussion of the cited case, usually more than a printed page of text.
- ██████ Discussed The citing case, administrative decision, or brief contains a substantial discussion of the cited case, usually more than a paragraph but less than a printed page.
- ████ Cited The citing case, administrative decision, or brief contains some discussion of the cited case, usually less than a paragraph.
- ██ Mentioned The citing case, administrative decision, or brief contains a brief reference to the cited case, usually in a string citation.

Document Delivery

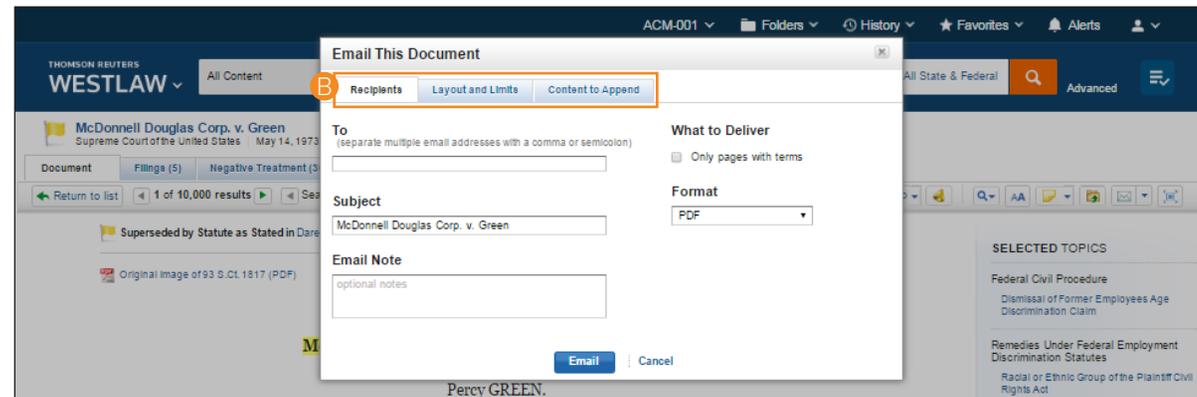

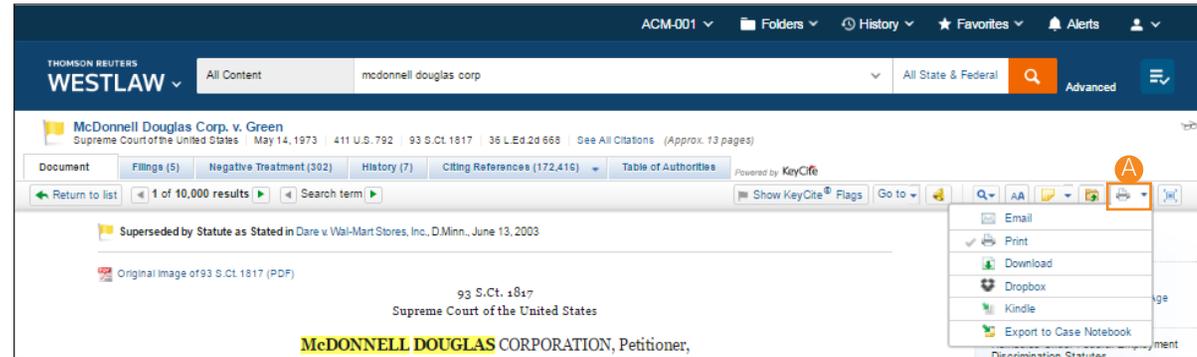

If you need a copy of a document, Westlaw offers multiple options for document delivery. Documents, snippets, and result lists can be emailed, printed, or downloaded from nearly every page in Westlaw. Documents can also be sent directly to your Amazon Kindle or Dropbox, exported to Case Notebook, or saved to a folder.
