

OT@IOA – 2021 activities

JANUARY

PhD event: Art of Academic Reviewing (online)

Organizers: Eva Boxenbaum, Renate Meyer, Silviya Svejenova (in collaboration with Ursula Plesner, IOA's PhD coordinator)

Timing: January 27, 14.30-16.30

Reviewing is central to our work as scholars since we also contribute to academic debates with constructive criticism. This event consists in a presentation on key features of reviewing, followed by an optional workshop where participants receive feedback from experienced IOA scholars on their own review assignment (see separate entry on reviewing for the OMT Division for an opportunity to review). Post-docs (and others) are also welcome.

OT@IOA – 2021 activities

PhD event: Crafting articles – the genres and styles

Organizers: Eva Boxenbaum, Renate Meyer, Silviya Svejnova, Pedro Monteiro (in collaboration with Ursula Plesner, IOA's PhD coordinator)

Timing: May 28, 10-12.

There are no shortcuts when it comes to publishing, but this seminar is an attempt to at least make it a bit clearer how different kinds of genres require different ways of crafting arguments (essays, theoretical contributions, etc.)

The event is composed of a seminar and an optional workshop. Workshop participants will get access to a recording of the OT Publishing Seminar on templates from March and write an extended abstract for a paper (1-2 pages) that will be discussed at the workshop.
