

CBS workshop: Historical research meets management & organizational research (25 Oct. 2018), 13:00–17:00

Porcelænshven 18, 3rd floor, 3.135

In which fields might management and organizational studies particularly benefit from historical approaches and methods? This is a topic of a workshop at the Centre for Business History at Copenhagen Business School 25 October 2018. Researchers from CBS and leading international scholars will discuss about the role of “History” in the field of management and organizational studies.
