Other research qualifications (selected):

Editor. Country editor for Scandinavian Journal of Management (2008-2013). Guest editor special issue in Scandinavian Journal of Management (2007). Guest editor special issue in International Journal of Managing Projects in Business (2015).

Editorial board member and referee for scientific journals: Scandinavian Journal of Management, editorial board (since January 2013). Construction Management and Economics, editorial board, panel member and referee in scientific committee at ARCOM, Association of Researchers in Construction Management (since March 2012). Valuation Studies, editorial board, panel member (since March 2012).

Co-founder and manager of an interdisciplinary anchored research group on Bioeconomy in joint collaboration with departments at Campus- Rena, Evenstad, Lillehammer and Elverum at HINN. Currently the research group is developing new research applications in collaboration with Inland Norway's industry, regional actors/Tretorget and the health care trust, other academic institutions (in Norway and abroad) that are geared towards the Norwegian research council/Forskningsrådet. The group and network are exploring the possibility of an Horizon 2020 application with an emphasis on the long term use/reuse and recycling of bio materials such as wood for innovative joint construction-carbon sink purposes (instead of burning wood for the single short term purpose of heat, followed by immediate carbon release). At HINN: 270.000 NOK grant for the Bioeconomy project application (awarded Nov. 2016 and extended December 2017 to ultimo 2018). Involved in the interregional, inner Scandinavian research project ecoINSIDE2 (since fall 2018). Involved in the establishment of 'Regnskapsklynge i sirkulærøkonomi', (The accounting network for the circular economy), initiated by Christine Lundberg Larsen CEO/ Accounting Norway, October 2018. <https://www.inn.no/om-hoegskolen/nyheter/norges-foerste-sirkulaere-regnskapsklynge-er-etablert>.

International experiences

During 1989-2000, employed at Lund University Sweden in various positions (research assistant, PhD student, assistant professor), and since 2000 at Copenhagen Business School as assistant- and associate professor. Active in several research networks in management and organization studies, e.g., the European Network on Research In Construction (ENRIC) on innovation in sustainable construction (wood constructions in particular). Experiences from international and cross-disciplinary research projects (since 1989). Reviewer of foreign research grant applications. Organizer of several international research conferences/workshops/tracks. More recently the Nordic Academy of Management (NFF) conference at Copenhagen Business School, 12-14 August 2015, including the Ph.D workshop August 10-11. Track 1 at the APROS/EGOS conference at University of Technology Sydney 9-11 December 2015, and track 12 at the Nordic Academy of Management (NFF) conference at Nord University Business School, Bodø August 23-25, 2017. In 2018, the Bio-economy workshop, Campus Rena April 18-19, NEON conference November 20-22, 2018 Campus Lillehammer, and track 15 on bio-circular economy (<http://konferanser.hil.no/neon2018/call-for-papers/>). Established a collaborative research-business-society network within public hospital construction and design in joint collaboration with the center and Network for Management Studies of the Building Process (headed by Prof. Kristian Kreiner and Prof. Jan Mouritsen, <http://www.clibyq.org/>) and the Public-Private research platform at CBS. The network initiative has resulted in seminars, access to strategic research sites and funding for Postdoc scholars. The members of the network are developing new research projects, and since 2015, within design and construction of sustainable buildings and infrastructure in Inland Norway.
