MANUFACTURE COPENHAGEN

We are pleased to invite you for a workshop on the topic of local textile and fashion production. In the workshop we will discuss and explore the creation of Manufacture Copenhagen and/or Manufacture Scandinavia, based on the model of Manufacture New York.

CEO and Founder of Manufacture NY, Bob Bland, and Co-Founder Amanda Parkes will kick off the workshop and is happy to share their business model as well as discuss how their experiences might inform local manufacturing in Copenhagen and/or Scandinavia.

Established in 2012, Manufacture New York is a New York City-based emerging fashion incubator + local manufacturing advocacy group that is partnered with the City of New York to create a 160,000 sf vertically-integrated, sustainable urban Manufacturing Innovation Center that combines emerging design support, workforce training, wearable tech R&D and affordable maker space for established artisans in one Brooklyn facility. This will be the first closed-loop fashion ecosystem optimized for reduced consumption, ethical & sustainable sourcing and transparency in the supply chain.

For any questions regarding the meeting please do not hesitate to contact Mette Harrestrup, email: meha@kea.dk, or Kirsti Reitan Andersen, email: kra.ikl@cbs.dk.
