

How to sell yourself

Landlords are looking for tenants who match their interests and needs. So, you need to sell yourself in the best possible way. You always need to remember that you are your favourite product!

You need to take under consideration the following:

- Academic and professional interests
- Personal interests
- Personal skills and qualities
- Picture of yourself, make it funny or interesting!
- Make it short and attractive. Be natural and honest, people appreciate it and it is a selling point.
