

Jeremy Moon

Professor of Sustainability Governance, Copenhagen Business School

Jeremy has been researching Corporate Social Responsibility & Corporate Sustainability for forty years, with emphasis on how these relate to government and public policy. This was originally from political science departments and, since 2002, from business schools.

His paper “‘Implicit” and “Explicit” CSR’ (with D. Matten, 2008) won the Academy of Management Review ‘Paper of the Decade Award’, 2018.

Books include

- A Rasche, M Morsing, J Moon & A Kourula Eds (2023) Corporate Sustainability Cambridge University Press, 2nd ed
- JS Knudsen & J Moon (2017) Visible Hands: National Government and International CSR Cambridge University Press
- J Moon (2014) Corporate Social Responsibility: A Very Short Introduction Oxford University Press

Visiting positions include

- Trinity College, University of Melbourne (Gourlay Professor)
- Yale University (Fox Leadership Lecturer)
- Department of Government, University of Manchester (Hallsworth Fellow)
- Institute for Advanced Studies, Princeton (Visitor)
- Churchill College, University of Cambridge (By-Fellow, Visiting Lecturer)
- European University Institute, Florence (Jean Monnet Fellow)

Honours include

- The Sumner Marcus Award for outstanding contributions of service and scholarship to the field (Social Issues in Management Division, Academy of Management) 2025
- Danida Fellowship (The Ministry of Foreign Affairs of Denmark) 2019
- Global Forum Best Symposium Award, Management Education & Development Division, Academy of Management (with R Slager, S Pouryousefi, E Schoolman, M Morsing, AJ Hoffman & V Srinivasan) 2019
- Academy of Management Review Paper of the Decade Award (D Matten and J Moon (2008) “‘Implicit” and “Explicit” CSR’ Academy of Management Review
- Fox Leadership Lecturer, Yale University 2016
- Election as Fellow, Royal Society of the Arts, 2007
- Beyond Grey Pinstripes European Faculty Pioneer Award for Preparing MBAs for Social and Environmental Stewardship (World Resources Institute and The Aspen Institute) 2005