Curriculum Vitae
August 2025

Leonard Seabrooke is currently Professor of International Political Economy and Economic Sociology at the Copenhagen Business School (CBS), where he leads the Organization, Markets and Governance research group and chairs the CBS Ethics Council. Renowned for his interdisciplinary approach across International Relations, Political Economy, Sociology, and Organization Studies, Len Seabrooke has published extensively in top journals across these fields. Citations metrics:

Google scholar: h-index 46, 8,300+ citations

Scopus: h-index 30, 3,275 citations (all publications in Q1)

Web of Science: h-index 27, 2,599 citations.

Prophy: h-index 32, 3400+ citations

ORCID ID: 0000-0001-5581-3293

Len is a former co-editor of both International Studies Quarterly and Review of International Political Economy. Seabrooke has an exceptional track record in securing major competitive funding, including two European Research Council grants, five consortium grants from the European Commission, as well as projects from the Independent Research Fund Denmark (x3), Norwegian Research Council (x5), Velux Foundation (x2), and New York-based Institute for New Economic Thinking—raising over A$15 million as Chief Investigator and A$83 million in total. His leadership roles at CBS, including directing the flagship International Business and Politics BSc and MSc degrees, reflect his commitment to institution building and academic excellence. Seabrooke is also one of the two experts for the Social Sciences panel of the Chartered Association of Business Schools, which establishes global rankings for publishing excellence through its Academic Journal Guide.
