

STEFAN SCHWARZKOPF

Academic Degrees

- 2008 PhD with Frank Trentmann, Birkbeck College, University of London
2000 M.A. with Lutz Niethammer, Modern History & History of Science, University of Jena

Academic Positions

- Since 2023 – Professorship Tenure Track
2010 – present Associate Professor, Department of Business Humanities & Law, CBS
2005 – 2009 Lecturer, School of Business, Queen Mary College, University of London

Academic Focus Areas

Sociology of markets and market-making; geopolitics, borders and lines in organization studies; paradoxes and dark sides of business ethics and organizational morality; interactions between theology and economics (corporate religions); sectarianism – cultural and political; conceptual history as a method

External Funding and Project Management Experience

- 2021-2022 Principal Investigator for DFF Research Project 1 ‘Confessionalization in Society’ (1028-00205B). The project asked what it means for companies that too many ethical demands are made on consumers by social movements that behave like religious sects. The project studied how companies can escape the ‘dark side’ of business ethics.
2020-2023 Principal Investigator for DFF Research Project 2 ‘Beyond Pinkwash’ (9130-00103B). The project studied how LGBTQ+ rights activists and corporate sponsors can interact at Pride Parades to generate a civil religious ritual with wider integrative potential for society.

Academic Awards and Honours (Selection)

- 2016 & 2021 Emerald LiteratiNetwork’s Outstanding Reviewer Award.
2012 Charles C. Slater Award for the Best Article during 2010-2011 in the Journal of Macromarketing, presented at Freie Universität Berlin, June 2012.
2009 Coleman Prize for the Best PhD Dissertation in British Business History, awarded annually by the Association of Business Historians in the United Kingdom.

Research Organization and Networking Activities

- 2023 Co-organizer of the 7th Interdisciplinary Market Studies Workshop (IMSW) in Edinburgh on ‘Future Markets – Market Futures’
2021 Co-organizer of the 6th Interdisciplinary Market Studies Workshop (IMSW) in Grenoble on ‘Flowing Markets’
2020 Co-organizer of online seminar series for the centenary of Carl Schmitt’s 1922 book Political Theology (Miguel Vatter; Montserrat Herrero; William Bain; Arthur Bradley, and others)
2019-2023 Member of the CBS ‘Diversity and Difference’ Research Platform
2018 Main organizer of the 5th Interdisciplinary Market Studies Workshop (IMSW) on ‘Market Situations – Situated Markets’, at CBS (Keynote speakers: Jens Beckert; Eve Chiapello)
2017 Organizer of Conference ‘Money, Markets and the Sacred: New Perspectives on Economic Theology’ at Copenhagen Business School. Conference outcome: Routledge Handbook of Economic Theology (published 2020)

Visiting Positions

2023-2024	Visiting Professor at Sigmund Freud University Vienna (Social and Historical Anthropology)
January 2023	Visiting Fellow at Vienna University of Economics and Business, Institute of Ethics in Management (with Prof. Martin Kornberger)
2014-2016	Visiting Professor at Boston University, London Campus
April-June 2012	Visiting Fellow at the Science and Technology Studies Unit, Saïd Business School, University of Oxford (with Prof. Steve Woolgar)
March 2012	Visiting Researcher at Department of Accounting, London School of Economics (with Dr. Martin Giraudeau and Prof. Peter Miller)

International Network

Strong connections to European and North American scholars of economic sociology of markets and organization studies. For many years, I have been active on the organizing committee that puts together the bi-annual Interdisciplinary Market Studies Workshop series (IMSW). An outcome of these conferences was the 2024 Cambridge University Press Handbook Markets Studies: Mapping, Theorizing and Impacting Market Action (ed. with Susi Geiger et al.).

Membership of the European Group of Organization Studies (EGOS) and the Academy of Management (AOM); regular attendance at the Organization Studies Workshops (OSW).

PhD supervision

2023-Present	Co-supervisor of Enrico Maccio, Department of Business Humanities and Law, CBS: 'Assembling the concept of craft'
2018-2023	Co-supervisor of Jessica Backsell, Stockholm School of Economics, Department of Marketing and Strategy: 'The spatial and conceptual domain of markets' (funded by Torsten Söderberg Foundation)
2018-2023	Supervisor of Lotte List, Department of Business Humanities and Law, CBS: 'Crisis Sovereignty: the Philosophy of History of the Exception'
2018-2021	Co-supervisor of Ida Simonsson, University of Uppsala, Department of Theology: 'The Order of Value: Christian Theology and the Market Economy'