RESEARCH: Strong international research leadership through high-impact publications and editorial work

Publications: Stronghold in Project Studies, grounded in Organization Studies and Strategy

Over 100 publications with high impact, several in the top 10 Percentile and an increasing number of publications rated as AJG 3 and 4 in general management journals (See Publication List). Highlights:

- High citation impact:
  - Google Scholar: 5,331 citations, H-index: 30
  - ResearchGate: 3,429 citations, over 110k reads, top 3% Interest Score in ResearchGate;
  - Scopus: 2,186 citations, H-index: 23;
  - Web of Science: 1,264 citations, H-index: 16, median citation in the 85th percentile.
- 34 International journal publications, 23 of which are in the top 10 Percentile in CiteScore and 9 in AJG 3 and above;
- 9 book chapters and 4 books, mostly in renowned international publishers like Oxford University Press;
- 11 editorials in leading PM journals.

Awards and Honours: International recognition for my work

- 2025: Academy of Management Annual Meeting Student Best Paper Award at the History Division in collaboration with Giacomo Dei and Giorgio Locatelli;
- 2022: Honourary Senior Research Fellowship at the UCL Bartlett School of Sustainable Construction;
- 2020: DTU Teaching Innovation Award 2020 for the Project Education Ecology;
- 2017: Best paper award 2017 for the Wiley Project Management Journal;
- 2014: Honourary Senior Research Fellowship at the UCL Bartlett School of Sustainable Construction;
- 2013: Best Reviewer Award 2013 for Elsevier International Journal of Managing Projects in Business;
- 2008: Winner of the International Project Management Association (IPMA) Young Researcher Award;
- 2008: Winner of the Association of Project Management (APM) Hebert Walton Award.

Editorial and Review Work: International thought leadership through engagement in editorial work

Senior editor of the Project Management Journal (PMJ), the 2nd-highest ranked project management journal, linked to the largest global professional association for project management (PMI, Project Management Institute) and excellent scholarly network of editorial contributors such as Stewart Clegg. Member of the International Editorial Board of the International Journal of Project Management (IJPM), a high-impact journal, in the top 10 Percentile in CiteScore (score achieved by only a few top management journals)

Regular reviewer for the IJPM, PMJ, and occasionally for Scandinavian Journal of Management and Organization Studies. Editor of five Special Issues and several Conference Tracks at conferences like EGOS.

Leading Early Career Scholars and Committee work

Beyond supervising over 50 MSc. and BSc. dissertations, I hired, worked, and led two bright young women who are developing excellent academic careers.

Cross-organizational leadership in PhD education:

- I am the leader and initiator of the PMJ College, an international program aimed to boost the career of young scholars in project studies – for which I acquired funding from PMI (US$20,000 for two years, with a potential extension of US$10,000/year indefinitely) and developed a group of six leading scholars including Stewart Clegg, Jonas Söderlund and Jörg Sydow for educating and mentoring a cohort of ten doctorate/post-doc candidates. The PMJ College was launched in 2024 and is about to form its first cohort of around 20 candidates (selected through a competitive process with many applicants).
- I have been contributing to PhD education and early career development through an extensive teaching portfolio of short courses, have been involved in seven PhD defences in various capacities, and delivered talks to PhDs and early career scholars in e.g. Montreal, Leeds, London, Vienna.
- Part of the team in the creation and delivery of the Fermen Belt Link PhD School, where a cohort of 10 PhD students have immersive PhD education followed by empirical studies on the Fermen Belt Link.

Local and international participation in academic appointment (7) and PhD commissions (8).

Impact in practice: Events, speeches and collaborations

- Speeches for project practitioners: Invitation to hold 15+ speeches for practitioners. Examples: Keynote speech on strategy implementation at MIT in 2018, on visualization of portfolios at Passion for Projects Conference in March 2015 (most prestigious Scandinavian practitioner conference in project management, with 700+ delegates).
- Speeches for non-project practitioners: I have been part of the “Bestil en Forsker” three times, and have been booked for talks by private and public organizations, like hospitals and SKAT.
- Online recorded speeches for project scholars and other academics at academic conferences or other venues: online and recorded seminar at the UCL Bartlett School of Sustainable Construction seminar series on the projectification of engineering systems (2022) and webinar on visualization of project portfolios published in 2016 at the projectmanagement.com, 64,000+ views.
- Online and face-to-face talks on a variety of topics to fellow academics, including talks on project society at an online PhD workshop in Poland in 2020, on project studies for PhD students in Vienna in 2019, on project theory in Leeds in 2019, on the development of project studies at the IRNOP 2018 (the core academic conference in project studies), and several others.
- I led the “When Research meets Practice” quarterly seminar series with five large events that attracted over 100 practitioners for years and were done in collaboration between PMI and IDA. The seminar was based on a conversation between a leading scholar and a project leader, talking about the same topic from practitioner and researcher perspectives. The events were targeted at academics, practitioners and university students with an interest in project management.
- Industry collaborations were strongest in the early phases of my research, conducting research-based consultancy, e.g. Voith Paper; Today I have been in regular conversations with practitioners at e.g. Rambøll, Fermen-Belt and Novo Nordisk.
- 14 publications in practitioner-oriented outlets (see Publication List)
